

We do not open our stores to-morrow.
To-day there'll be an active demand for thin clothes. A White Flannel Suit's as neat a holiday tog as any, if not neater, provided you buy a good one; we have only the good sort, $18. Some of the Fancy Flannel Coats (not blazers) we got from London are very pretty ($5 to $8); worn with fancy Flannel Shirt and White Flannel Trousers belted or sashed; or, if you don't affect the "negligee," a "biled" shirt and White Wash or Flannel Vest is both proper and comfortable. Then there's the old-fashioned India Searsucker, whole suit weighing only 20 ounces, $13; or a fancy Nun's Cloth or Worsted Serge Suit we have, a trifle heavier, $13, either of which would please a man who has lived in the tropics.

The sedate man's thin coat is black. Alpaca, $2 and $3; Nun's Cloth, $4; Sicilian Coats, $5.50; Vests, $2.50. Wonder why Sicilians are not greater favorites? Down in New Orleans it is pre-eminently the gentleman's coat. To one wholesale customer there we've shipped over a thousand this Spring. New Yorkers are not yet acquainted with the rich, silky fabric. Worn with a white wash vest it is lovely.
